

A Legacy of Light

Redland Museum Inc
60 Smith Street, Cleveland

A Legacy of Light

five generations of photographers

1863—2012

The exhibition is being held at the Redland Museum

7th July 2014 to 31 July 2014

Normal entry fees apply

This exhibition features the photographic work of five generations from one family spanning a 150 years period from 1863-2012. Christopher Roggencamp, first generation, Norman Roggencamp, second generation, Kevin Doody, third generation, John and Paul Doody, fourth generation and Patrick Doody, fifth generation. This unique exhibition highlights the changing ways the medium of photography has been used to document our lives and our history and celebrates this significant collection.

